UNION PROGRAM READY FOR ISSUE

IS A TWELVE PAGE FOLIO RELEASED TO LABOR DAY IN BEAUMONT.

TO BE GIVEN TO PUBLIC TOMORROW

Parade in the Forenoon, Athletic Contests at Driving Park in Afternoon and Dancing There at Night.

The program for Beaumont's Labor Day celebration tomorrow was finished yesterday and issued last evening. It is a twelve page folio, containing all information regarding the day's doings and chuck full and running over with a choice lot of "info." It will be distributed among the members of the various unions and given to the public tomorrow. The folks begin with an announcement to the public from the committee from the Trades and Labor Assembly, which has had the arrangement of Labor Day celebrations in charge. The announcement follows:

As we look back over the past year and note the progress made in organized labor everywhere, we rejoice that we are a member of the greatest organization on earth. A combination of producers, of men who make everything that makes this world a better place to live in. Men who are skilled in the production of all the necessities as well as the luxuries of life. Men who make travel easy, make our cities beautiful, make our rich men rich, and make our country what it is today. Great, indeed, has been the progress made.

Extraordinary efforts have been made by our organizers and officials to enlarge our great army of members and our efforts have been crowned with well-merited success.

The work of our forefathers has been continued and extended.

We have gained in numbers, and we have gained the esteem of our fellow citizens who are not in our ranks. New departures have proven successful.

The greatest of these being the organization of the farmers.

While we have been busy in the factory, in the workshop and in our meeting halls, building up for the betterment of human society, our enemies have been busy at the other end, tearing down what we have built up.

Attempt upon attempt has been made throughout the country to disrupt the unions.

Unscrupulous men have adopted questionable means to further their selfish aims, but the effect in most cases has been the opposite to that intended, as our workmen had to join the ranks of the organized to protect themselves from the greed of the Parryite.

Thanks to our good judgment and the intelligence of our Beaumont citizens the few unscrupulous enemies of organized labor in this city have been unable to do harm.

Our business men have this year, like in former years, come forward liberally to help make Labor Day a success.

All unionists and their friends should bear in mind when making purchases that the advertisers in the Labor Day program have patronized us and have contributed their share toward making Labor Day a success.

Others have given prizes for the various games and contests on Labor Day.

They have patronized you! You should patronize them!

The day's celebration is divided into three parts: A parade in the forenoon, athletic contests and music at the Driving Park in the afternoon and dancing and music at the Driving Park in the evening. A spirited contest for marshal of the day resulted in the choice of Mr. P. J. Davies.

In the afternoon the Labor Day program will be delivered at the Driving Park by Hon. Walton Petee of San Antonio. The parade committee has issued the following instructions regarding the formation of the procession:

The following positions are assigned to the respective unions in the formation of the Grand Parade on Monday, September 5, at 9 a. m. sharp.

Matchmakers, bakers, and linemen, right on Pearl, facing south between Main and Washington streets. The blacksmiths, carpenters and bar tenders left on same street.

Painters, street car men and printers, right on Washington street, between Main and Pearl streets, facing west.

Federal union 9,777, tailors and plumbers, left on Washington street, facing west.

Timers, bakers and Federal Union 11,249, right on Main street, facing Washington street.

COUNTY SCHOOL OPENS.

Examinations Held and Work Given Under Way.

A number of county schools will open tomorrow, the examinations of teachers having been completed and instructors apportioned among the various districts. Four teachers were examined Friday and Saturday at the High School by a board consisting of Miss Ceci-nati Willis, M. S. A. Humphreys and Miss Lena Triplett. Those examined

were Miss V. C. Kirkwood, Mrs Lydia

A. Woodson and Mr. M. M. Ford and Miss Eva Donyer.

Mrs. Kirkwood was recommended for a certificate as teacher in the city schools and will probably be assigned to a girl by the city superintendent.

Miss Eva Donyer was given a certificate as third grade teacher in the county schools. Certificates to the other two teachers have not been issued yet.

Three county schools will open tomorrow. They will be the Port Neches school, Miss Nannie Tyne, principal;

the China school, Mr. S. A. Humphreys, principal and the Stonegate farm school, Miss Anna McLowry, principal.

The remainder of the county schools will open September 12.
